

U4E is based on a business model that makes a connection between product consumption and land conservation. The give back stamp is U4E's method of keeping that connection transparent. For as long as the U4E brand is sold it commits itself to having the stamp on every product that we sell, and with numbers in every stamp.

The board of directors will be assigned to the task of making this statement live on forever.

The Architect

U4E reserves the right to not pay the give back amount on items that are given away for swag or testing purposes. U4E will also use the "Friends of U4E" logo and statement in cases where there is no product being sold, but we wish to get our name in to the public's eye.
